Dear Ms. Burnham:

CODE and the International Book Bank, the organizers of Project Love Sudan, would like to thank your reading council for its contribution of school supplies in October 2008 for the John Dau Foundation in the South Sudan. The school supplies departed Baltimore, MD on November 15 for the South Sudan.

Your contribution of 250 Project Love Kits, 5 Teacher Kits in 9 boxes represents a wonderful commitment by your council to make a tangible difference in the education of young people in the South Sudan as they try to rebuild their educational system after many years of civil war.

In particular, we would like to express our gratitude to the following reading councils for their support and contribution:

The Diamond State Reading Association,
The Kent Council for Reading,
The Reading Council of Northern Delaware,
The Sussex Reading Council, and
The Wilmington University IRA Student Group.

Your council demonstrated great leadership in organizing the assembly of Project Love kits and Teacher Kits for the South Sudan and will enhance the education of young people in that part of the world.

Your leadership in this program as president of the Diamond State Reading Association is also acknowledged in this letter of thanks.

With sincere appreciation,
