

Student Score = 72

4. What do the data show about seed abundance before the drought compared with seed abundance after the drought?

The data shows there were more seeds before the drought than after the drought.

Student Response

The data shows there were more seeds before the drought than after the drought.