

A photograph of three students in a classroom setting, all wearing light blue shirts and ties. They are gathered around a table, focused on a project. The student in the center is leaning over, using orange-handled scissors to cut a piece of paper. The student on the left is looking down at the work, and the student on the right is holding a piece of paper with a blue handprint graphic. The background shows shelves filled with various papers and folders, some labeled with 'DES #1 PORTFOLIOS'.
