

Appendix 3

Current Organization Chart

What is the purpose of an Organizational Chart?

The purpose of an Organizational Chart is to illustrate and delineate the chain of command within an organization. It is a helpful tool used to bring clarity as to who does what and who reports to whom within the organization. Each box represents a function that is vital to the organization operating efficiently. The box includes the name of the person in charge of that function and the lines, drawn from one box to another, show the reporting relationships. The dotted lines indicate a relationship exists between the two functions, but may not be evaluative in nature.
