Introduction

Recruitment is a process by which a district/school ensures that it has the largest and strongest pool of qualified applicants for a position. Recruitment, as part of a human capital strategy that matches the needs of a public district/school, often means approaching teacher recruitment and selection differently (Gross & DeArmond, 2011). Rather than waiting to see who applies for a posted position, they constantly seek candidates through formal and informal activities. Often, the most effective districts/schools take an ongoing and more proactive approach to teacher recruitment throughout the school year (Gross & DeArmond, 2011).

According to the Delaware Department of Education (2012), the key components of a human capital strategy addressing teacher recruitment include:

- Prioritizing the recruitment of educators;
- Projecting hiring needs through vacancy/attrition data;
- Delivering clear and early messages;
- Building talent pipelines/partnerships at the local and state levels; and
- Positioning school/district leaders to make key hiring decisions

This section of the guide provides an overview of a comprehensive approach to the recruitment of staff, particularly teachers.
Guiding Questions for a Comprehensive Recruitment Process

1. When and how do districts/schools prepare to find the best teacher applicants?

2. What are the most effective recruitment methods and activities?
The figure below presents a graphic representation of the key aspects of a comprehensive recruitment process that will answer each of the guiding questions.

Overview of a Comprehensive Recruitment Process

- Comprehensive Recruitment
- Maintain job announcements, advertising and recruitment files
- Analyze the outcomes and effectiveness of recruitment sources and strategies
- Develop and implement a recruitment plan
- Examine staffing needs
- Develop timelines for recruitment
- Develop/update clear recruitment materials
- Identify multiple sources and strategies for recruitment
- Form recruitment & selection team
When and how do districts/schools prepare to find the best teacher applicants?

The districts/schools that find the best teacher applicants engage in the following major activities: examination of the current status of staffing needs and recruitment efforts; development of timelines for recruitment and hiring; the update/development of a variety of clear recruitment materials; the identification of multiple sources and strategies for recruitment; and the development of a comprehensive recruitment plan. Each of these will be briefly described.

Examine Current Status of Staffing Needs and Recruitment Efforts

Prior to developing a comprehensive recruitment approach, a district/school may want to examine the current status of staffing needs and recruitment efforts. For example, here is a set of potential questions to use:

- Qualifications and Experience
  - What percentages of teachers are teaching outside their certification area?
  - What percentages of teachers are on provisional/emergency licenses?
  - What is the number of teachers with a master’s degree in a content area?
  - What are the percentages of non-traditional teachers (e.g., long-term substitutes, visiting teachers)?
  - What percentages of teachers are in their first year of teaching?
  - What percentages of teachers received evaluations of ineffective or are on probation?

- Current and/or Anticipated Shortages
  - What percentages of teachers leave during the academic year?
  - When do teachers leave in their career? What percentages of teachers leave in the first three years of employment?
  - Have you considered all retirements, resignations, non-renewals, and/or teachers on waivers?
  - Does your district/school anticipate any changes in student enrollment? If yes, what are the implications for staffing?
• Equity Gaps*
  o How many high-needs schools have inexperienced teachers (less than 3 years of teaching experience)? Which high-needs schools have more inexperienced teachers?
  o Which high-needs schools have higher rates of teacher turnover?
  o What percentages of teachers leave by race/ethnicity? By student race/ethnicity?
  o What are the percentages of teachers with ineffective evaluation ratings in high-needs schools?

• Previous Recruitment Efforts
  o What is the total number of applicants per teaching vacancy that the district/school received in the past 2 years?
  o How diverse were your recruitment efforts?
  o What was the number of recruitment dollars spent per teaching vacancy?
  o How effective were these efforts in the district/school reaching their recruitment goals?
  o What are the major sources of hires?

*Equity gaps are defined as the difference between the rate at which certain groups of students (e.g., minority or high-poverty) are taught by excellent teachers and leaders and the rate at which their peers are taught by such teachers and leaders.

Sources for Questions: Center for Public Education (2008), Center on Great Teachers and Leaders (2015), and Delaware Department of Education (2015).

Based on a summary of data and outcomes from questions listed above, the next step is to identify priorities and develop a timeline for recruitment and selection.
Develop Timelines for Recruitment and Selection

The most effective districts/schools realize that recruitment and selection is a year-round job that requires creativity and entrepreneurship to make sure that the best candidates are hired (Gross & DeArmond, 2011). For example, Rocketship Education identifies candidates the year before it plans to hire by July/August and offers letters by March/April (TNTP, 2012). Achievement First hires on a rolling basis so that 75% of hiring is completed by June (TNTP, 2012).

Waiting to the end of the school year or summer to recruit and select teachers limits a district/school’s ability to compete for top candidates (TNTP, 2012). Districts/schools need to hire by May 1st at the latest to be competitive for the best candidates.

Provide Notification Incentives to Teachers who Intend to Retire. To promote early hiring, districts and schools institute policies that provide incentives to teachers who intend to retire or resign at the end of the school year by informing the district/school of their intent to retire ((Robertson-Kraft & Hejlek, 2016). For example, the 2015 Delaware Talent Practices Report identified that five districts reported offering bonuses to teachers who notify the district of their intent to retire (Robertson-Kraft & Hejlek, 2016). All five had retirement notifications between December 31st and March 1st.

To improve the recruitment of teachers, it is recommended that districts/schools:

- ✔ Plan ahead by projecting hiring needs/developing a staffing plan for the next school year;
- ✔ Post general job announcements for anticipated and known vacancies early in the school year;
- ✔ Define the ideal teacher and competencies needed and develop/update recruitment materials early in the school year;
Identify key talent pipeline sources and strategies for distribution of district/school materials;

Develop and implement a comprehensive recruitment plan for the next year;

Analyze the outcomes and effectiveness of recruitment sources and strategies; and

Maintain job announcements, advertising, and recruitment files.

The next step is the development or updating of recruitment materials that reflect the district/school and highlight the backgrounds and experiences needed for anticipated openings.

Please refer to Appendix A for Suggested Teacher Recruitment and Selection Timelines and Recruitment Calendar Template.
Develop/Update Clear Recruitment Materials

A key aspect of a comprehensive recruitment process is for a district/school to have a variety of updated clear recruitment materials available for distribution to potential applicants through a variety of sources and strategies. Potential recruitment materials include the following:

- Job announcement postings;
- Specific recruitment messages;
- Recruitment brochures;
- Recruitment district/school profile; and
- Recruitment webpage with application information and email address.

Each of these will be described with examples provided in the appendices.

Please refer to Appendix B for examples of district and charter school recruitment messages and materials.

Recruitment materials need not only describe the position(s) available, but often highlight why, potential candidates should consider working in a district/school. For example, TNTP (2012) found that the number one factor that teachers reported attracted them to their school was the philosophy/mission of the school.
Create an Ideal Candidate Profile for Screening and Selection

Before beginning any recruiting activities, it is recommended that a district/school develop a definition of the ideal candidate that is aligned to the district/school’s vision, culture, and performance expectations (TNTP, 2012). The description should also align with evaluation expectations.

This profile may be used during recruitment activities by encouraging applicants to reflect on their comfort level with these competencies before applying. In addition, it should be used during the screening and selection process.

Several examples of statements on ideal candidates are included.

The Peak to Peak Charter School’s statement includes:

“The ideal teaching candidate is a student-centered, life-long learner who is philosophically aligned with the mission and the vision of the school, and eager to take advantage of the many opportunities provided for both students and staff.”

For Chicago Public Schools, the seven non-negotiables that teachers must possess are:

- A commitment to the Office of School Improvement values and a belief that our students can beat the odds;
- A comfort level with transparent and public sharing of data;
- Priority focus on increasing student skills as measured by test scores;
- Full implementation of the well-managed schools model and active participation as an advisor;
- Authentic commitment to pre-planned and strategic professional learning both individually and in groups; and
A commitment to personally doing your job to ensure healthy and honest collaboration among adults (TNTP, 2012).

Align all Recruitment Messages

Be sure to align all recruitment messages. For example, if a district/school’s goal is to recruit teachers committed to raising student performance, all messages should communicate that goal consistently (Hayes & Behrstock, 2009).

Job Announcement Postings

A job announcement posting should entice and excite a potential applicant to apply to a district/school. This may be the first description of a district/school an applicant sees.

Usually a job announcement includes a title, minimum qualifications, application procedure, and the typical Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO statement).

The major components of a job announcement include:

- District/school description, mission/philosophy and “sell” (1-2 paragraphs);
- Brief Job Summary: Provides a snapshot or describes the main purpose of the job, consisting of no more than three to five sentences;
- Qualifications (i.e., Education, Experience, Knowledge, Skills, Abilities, Special Skills, Licensures, and Certifications);
- Equal employment opportunity statement (School does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, gender, handicap, age, religion, sexual orientation, or national or ethnic origin. The school is an equal opportunity employer); and
- How to apply.

Please refer to Appendix B for examples of job announcement postings and recruitment materials.
District/School Profile

TNTP suggests that districts/schools create a 1-page district/school profile describing the district/school, goals, and extra supports and opportunities for teachers.

Identify Multiple Sources and Strategies for Recruitment

Once a district/school has developed/updated recruitment materials, the next step in the process is to identify sources and strategies for building talent pipelines/partnerships at the local and state levels. The most effective districts/schools use a variety of sources and strategies.

According to the 2015 Delaware Talent Practices Survey, districts/schools in Delaware typically used the following sources to post job announcements:

- District/school’s website
- University of Delaware Project Search
- Presentations at job fairs in Delaware
- Word of mouth

Aspiring educators used the following sources for employment opportunities:

- Online postings
- District/school’s website
- Friends/family
- Recruitment fairs
- Career services  (Braxton & Ricketts, 2015).

JoinDelawareSchools

Through the website, potential candidates can search openings, learn about districts and individual schools, and post their resumes to one centralized site. This site can be accessed by districts or charter schools looking for talented teachers and leaders. Districts and schools may add additional questions to the generic application on the website that are specific to subjects. For example, questions in Spanish for a Spanish teacher or mathematics problems for a math teacher.

Prepare District/Schools’ Social Media to Recruit Teachers

Around one-third of Americans use social-media platforms (according to a Pew Research Center Survey reported by Ellen Wexler in Education Week, January, 2016). A 2015 Recruiter Nation survey by Jobvite found that 92% of recruiters are using social media (http://www.jobvite.com/blog/welcome-to-the-2015-recruiter-nation-formerly-known-as-the-social-recruiting-survey/). In the same year, the Job Seeker Nation Report by Jobvite found that of more than 2000 job seekers surveyed, 67% accessed Facebook, 45% Twitter, and 40% LinkedIn (http://www.jobvite.com/blog/jobvite-releases-6th-annual-job-seeker-nation-report/)

Increasingly, districts/schools are turning to social media to recruit teachers and other personnel. The three most common social media sites include: Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter, and YouTube. Each of these will be briefly described.

Please refer to Appendix D for Join Delaware Schools website and Facebook page and Appendix E for examples of districts using social media for recruitment.

Facebook  www.facebook.com

Facebook is one of the largest, global social networking websites. Facebook allows groups, organizations, and individuals to create their own pages.

The Facebook page is a profile that enables a district/school to share information about your organization.

A district/school Facebook organizational account can provide a cost-effective way of reaching out to potential applicants (Mueller, 2011). In addition to job announcements and recruitment events, a school/district can post testimonials from veteran teachers, post recruitment videos or video clips of teachers in action, and link the page to applications or other upcoming events (Mueller, 2011).

A school/district can post a job for free in the Facebook Marketplace. The advertisement requires basic information, such as location, job category, title, why the position needs to be filled, job description, and a photo with the job posting or another image (Black, 2010). The limitation of a free job posting is that it cannot be targeted to a specific group of people like you can with a Facebook Ad (Black, 2010).

A third option is to post a Facebook Ad. With a Facebook Ad, a district/school can choose the exact audience that you are looking to target. The system will ask a series of questions about the characteristics of the people you want to see your job posting ad. You will be asked about the group's age, sex, and specific keywords related to the position. Facebook will then calculate how many users fit that criteria. Districts/schools have the choice to pay per click (how many people clicked on your job ad), pay per impression (how many people potentially saw your ad), or set how much you are willing to pay. You can decide whether to run the job ad continuously or only during a certain time. Another feature that may be helpful is that Facebook keeps track of how many visits a page receives, the numbers of unique page visitors, and the number of members (Mueller, 2011).

LinkedIn

LinkedIn is a business-oriented social networking service. The goal of the site is to allow registered members to establish and document networks of people they know and trust professionally.

Profiles and Connections. LinkedIn allows users to create profiles and "connections" to other members. LinkedIn makes it easy to fill out a profile by providing basic online forms. Profiles often include title, a description, a career section, and updates. Districts/schools can use LinkedIn to post jobs and search for candidates (Black, 2010). You can post jobs on the network activity box in your profile. Job openings should be current and linked to information regarding how to apply. Be sure that your profile states that the school/district is an equal opportunity employer.

Groups. LinkedIn Groups provide a place for professionals in the same industry or with similar interests to share content, find answers, post and view jobs, make business contacts, and establish themselves as industry experts. A district/school can join Groups to connect to potential applicants. Each user can connect to a maximum of 50 groups.
The LinkedIn search box at the top of every page allows a user to search for people, jobs, companies, and groups. You can click any of the search suggestions that appear in the dropdown list as you type, or submit your search to see the full results. The following are the types of searches you can run. Basic searches that are available for people, companies, or jobs; Advanced searches that are available for people or jobs; or Boolean searches that used advanced search operators and Boolean logic to conduct searches.

In addition, LinkedIn offers LinkedIn Jobs in which an organization can post job listings for a fee. LinkedIn Jobs allows a user to send an increased number of emails. Talent Solutions is a recruitment platform in which organizations can find, contact, and nurture relationships with potential applicants.

LinkedIn Analytics can provide you information on who is visiting your page, and what types of content the users clicked on, liked, and shared most and least often.

Twitter [https://twitter.com/]

Another way for districts/schools to advertise available positions and communicate instantly is Twitter. Twitter is a microblogging social network and messaging service.

A district/school can set up a free Twitter account that includes a profile of no more than 160 characters. It is suggested that a school/district maximize information provided in the profile. For example, include logos, photos and videos, and a brief description as well a link to the district/school website.

Twitter members/users can then search organization profiles by specific topics or issues.

Twitter allows registered members to broadcast short posts called tweets (no more than 140 characters). Tweets may contain text, photos, links and videos. Twitter members can broadcast tweets and follow other users' tweets by using multiple platforms and devices. Tweets and replies to tweets can be sent by cell phone text message, desktop clients, or by posting at the Twitter.com website.

Many organizations link their Facebook accounts to Twitter accounts, so that Twitter posts appear on Facebook pages.

To make job postings stand out, consider using hash tags, which are formed simply by prefixing a word with a hash symbol (#). Hash tags are used as a way to filter and find information on Twitter. By including a hash tag with a keyword in the tweet, it becomes instantly searchable. Here are a few examples of hash tags to consider using: #job, #jobpost, #employment, #recruiting, #hiring, #career, or #staffing (Black, 2010).

__YouTube__

https://www.youtube.com/

YouTube, a (Google-owned) video-sharing website, is a platform on which users can upload, share, and view videos. A wide variety of user-generated video content is displayed, including film and TV clips as well as amateur content, such as video blogging.

You can learn more about setting up a YouTube account and getting started with YouTube here: www.youtube.com/t/about_getting_started. You will need a Google account to sign in to YouTube. Start by signing up for an official account for a district/school.

The administrator of this account will then have the ability to include videos of his/her choosing for viewing within the district/school network. The administrator will also be able to approve access for other accounts.

Please refer to Appendix D for Join Delaware Schools website and Facebook page and Appendix E for examples of districts using social media for recruitment.
Consider Differentiating Recruitment Strategies for Targeted Candidates

In addition to the above recruitment strategies, districts/schools may need to consider more creative or differentiated approaches for targeted candidates, such as increasing the ethnic/racial diversity of applicants and for hard-to-staff positions.

Recruitment Strategies to Address Need for Racial Diversity in Delaware’s Teachers

In 2014-15, DDOE reported that 53% of Delaware’s student population is non-white or minority while 86% of teachers are white, and 76% of administrators are white (Delaware Department of Education, 2015).

To increase the ethnic/racial diversity of applicants, consider the following strategies:

1. Involve current teachers of diverse races/ethnicities in the recruitment planning and strategizing processes. Include representatives on the recruitment and selection teams.

2. Develop partnerships with local and/or regional Historically Black Colleges and Universities to identify potential applicants.

3. Explore the career sites of national organizations, such as the Hispanic Association of Colleges and Universities and the National Alliance of Black School Educators.

4. Reach out to local and regional community and faith-based organizations (e.g., Urban League, NAACP, churches, Asian community organizations, etc.).

5. Tailor marketing messages and images to include adults and children representative of diverse races/ethnicities and testimonials.

6. Advertise positions in local, regional, and national minority-focused publications.

7. Consider scholarship support and/or other financial incentives to future teachers that are tied to the effectiveness of their preparation program and their performance.
8. Recruit teachers who are familiar with the languages and cultures of English language learners.

9. Recruit/support minorities who currently work as paraprofessionals to enroll in teacher preparation programs (e.g., grow-your-own program).

For example, Call Me Mister, or Mentors Instructing Students Toward Effective Role Models, is a statewide initiative in South Carolina designed to increase the pool of teachers with more diverse backgrounds among the state’s lowest-performing elementary schools. The city of Oakland, California, has implemented Teach Tomorrow in Oakland, a grow-your-own model that works in partnership with Bay-area universities and draws on culturally diverse residents of the community with college degrees—and some without degrees—who can be molded into effective teachers. The “Ready to Teach” program at Howard University in Washington, D.C., focuses on recruitment, preparation, and retention of underrepresented populations from urban communities, particularly African American males (Ahmad & Boser, 2014).

Recruitment Strategies for Hard-to-Staff Positions

In 2015, the Delaware Talent Practices Report identified that districts received the fewest applications for the following positions: foreign language, high school mathematics and science instructional positions, psychologists, and speech therapists.

For hard-to-staff positions, consider the following strategies:

1. Contact faculty at local and regional colleges and universities in specific content areas.

   For example, some districts contact institutions of higher education in specific fields (e.g., mathematics, science, or foreign languages) to identify recent or upcoming graduates who may be looking for a job.

2. Begin recruiting prospective applicants before college graduation, by building strong partnerships with local and regional institutions of higher education.

   For example, several Delaware districts have developed formal partnership with local universities to host student teachers each year (Robertson-Kraft & Hejlek, 2016). These activities align with the research that finds that most new teachers seek jobs where they grow up or went to college (Robertson-Kraft & Hejlek, 2016).

3. Develop multiple entry points (alternative routes) into teaching for non-traditional mathematics and science professionals.

   Alternative routes often are attractive to midcareer changers and other non-traditional prospective teachers who want to become certified teachers.

4. Provide and create financial incentives (e.g., scholarships and loan forgiveness, tuition reimbursement, signing bonus, housing or moving assistance).

   For example, in the 2015 Delaware Talent Practices Survey Report, four districts and reported that they used pay incentives such as financial signing bonuses, a three-year incentive bonus to remain in the district, and a relocation loan (Robertson-Kraft & Hejlek, 2016).
Some districts provide the following benefits for teachers who take on the toughest assignments that include:

- Loan forgiveness: Assumes up to $19,000 in student loan payments if teacher candidates agree to teach in a subject-shortage area in low-performing schools for at least four years. For teachers of Title I schools, consider the federal loan forgiveness program.
- Housing incentives: Allows the use of tax credits or mortgage revenue bonds for teachers who commit to serve at least five years in a low-performing school.

5. Develop differentiated pay systems to attract prospective teachers.

Other districts consider different steps on the salary schedule to do some or all of the following: a) reward school leaders who demonstrate strong student growth, b) recruit or retain teachers to teach in hard-to-staff schools, c) recruit or retain teachers to teach in fields of shortage, d) recruit or retain the best teachers for the district, and e) reward educators who demonstrate strong student growth. For example, over the last several years, Charlotte-Mecklenburg (N.C.) and the State of Arkansas have designed programs with multiple financial elements to attract teachers to high-needs schools and subjects.

6. Consider offering open contracts to teachers in high need areas guaranteeing a job in the district/school once a position opens up.

TNTP (2014) suggests that districts consider offering a strong teacher candidate an open contract before a position becomes available. This is a great way to lock up top talent before a rival school or district can hire the person. However, a district must be certain that it will have an eventual position to offer any open contracted candidates so as to not owe them a job in the event that their anticipated position never materializes.

Sources: American Federation of Teachers (2007); McGraner (2009); National Charter School Resource Center (2011); and TNTP (2014).

Once a district/school identifies various sources and strategies for distribution of recruitment materials, a district/school may be ready to organize and establish a recruitment and selection team and develop a comprehensive recruitment plan.
What are the most effective recruitment approaches for districts/schools?

One of the most effective recruitment approaches for districts/schools to take is to establish and operate a recruitment and selection team. The team is responsible for the examination of the current status of staffing needs and recruitment efforts, planning and implementing a comprehensive recruitment plan, and analyzing the outcomes and effectiveness of the recruitment efforts.

Establish a Recruitment and Selection Team

It is recommended that a district/school establish a team for the recruitment, screening, and selection of teacher applicants. In addition to district/school administrators, it is important to identify who will be involved in:

1. Recruiting activities;
2. Screening submitted application packages and conducting initial telephone interviews;
3. Conducting and evaluating on-site interviews and demonstration lessons of candidates; and
4. Making final hiring recommendations to the district/school administrators.

Representation. It is recommended that the team or committee include individuals with different perspectives and expertise and a demonstrated commitment to diversity.

For example, schools in Providence, Rhode Island, have a school hiring committee that consists of a principal and two teachers. The committee reviews applications, conducts interviews, and make selections. The teachers receive annual compensation. In Seattle, Washington, each school identifies a building selection committee/hiring team which includes two staff selected by union-represented employees, including one classified teams. In New York City, schools have a Human Resources Committee, with union members and supervisors. Each school decides on the number of members and the make-up of the committees (TNTP, 2014).

Size. The appropriate number of people comprising a team can vary. Keep it manageable.
Having team members involved throughout the recruitment, screening, and selection process ensures that they become very familiar with: 1) the district/school’s staffing needs; 2) the competencies needed for an ideal candidate; and 3) the process and procedures for screening application packages, conducting interviews, and making selection decisions.

Having a consistent team reduces the opportunity for illegal discrimination allegations. Teams may help to protect the district/school against accusations of arbitrary or inappropriate applicant evaluation and candidate selection.

Develop and Implement a Comprehensive Recruitment Plan

The ultimate goal of a recruitment plan is that a district/school will have a comprehensive approach to addressing short-term and long-term staffing needs. Typically, a recruitment plan identifies outcomes, activities, timelines, persons responsible, resources available, and accountability measures.

A recruitment plan usually entails the following steps.

1. Set goals.
   - Goals may be identified as targets for marketing, recruitment of applicants, and/or hiring. Goals should be straightforward and emphasize what a district/school wants to accomplish for a specific time-period (e.g., school year). Goals should be specific, measurable, attainable, realistic, and timely (SMART goals).

2. Identify action steps.
   - Action steps are key activities/steps needed to reach a goal. Action steps should be specific and reflect actions that a district/school will take toward reaching the goal.
3. Set timelines.

   - Timelines may either consist of the school year, specific months, and/or semesters for specific action steps to be taken or completed. Be sure to align the timelines in the recruitment plan with a district/school’s overall timelines for recruitment and selection.

4. Identify person(s) responsible for action steps.

   - Identify the position and name of person who will be primarily responsible for each action step.

5. Identify budget and resources needed.

   - Identify any anticipated costs and/or budget for each action step. Resources may also include materials and/or persons.

TNTP (2014) recommends the following guidelines for setting a recruitment budget:

   - 40-50% of budget toward online recruitment,
   - 20-25% toward registration and travel for regional education fairs,
   - 20-25% for the creation of marketing materials (e.g., flyers, signs, etc.), and
   - 10-20% for additional recruitment-related expenses (e.g. attending recruitment fairs, posting job descriptions, etc.).

The 2015 Delaware Talent Practices Report found that ten districts reported having a recruitment budget, with amounts ranging from $2000 to $30,000 (Robertson-Kraft & Hejlek, 2016).

Please refer to Appendix F in this section for a full Example and Template for a Recruitment Plan.

Potential resources for developing and implementing strategies and activities to recruit and hire teachers and principals include local activities allowed under the 2015 Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), Title II, Preparing, Training, and Recruiting High Quality Teachers, Principals or Other School Leaders, Part A. Supporting Effective Instruction, Section 2103. Local Uses of Funds.
6. Identify anticipated outcomes and accountability measures for action steps.

   a. Identify anticipated outcomes or results for each action step. Outcomes are usually specific and short-term.

   b. Identify accountability measures (what evidence will be provided that the outcome has been met). Identify concrete examples/evidence of how the school will know that the outcomes have been reached for each action step.

It is recommended that the team meet periodically to review the recruitment plan and monitor its implementation.

The final step in the recruitment process is to analyze the outcomes and effectiveness of the school’s recruitment plan, sources, and strategies. This will ensure that the school identifies the most effective resources and strategies.
Analyze the Outcomes and Effectiveness of Recruitment Sources and Strategies

Tracking the sources of all applicants as they enter the district’s/school’s recruitment pipeline provides opportunities to review the data at the end of the hiring season and revise the recruitment process and strategies (TNTP, 2012). The 2015 Delaware Talent Practices Report found that thirteen districts reported tracking the percentages of applicants from different recruitment sources that are hired (Robertson-Kraft & Hejlek, 2016).

Potential questions for the analyses of recruitment data:

- Where did applicants get their information about the district/school?
- What were the major sources for applicants?
- How much time and money did each source of applicant cost?
- Which sources and strategies provided applicants who fit the district’s/school’s ideal candidate? (adapted from TNTP, 2012).
- What proportion of applicants received offers? Which proportion of applicants did not receive offers?
- Of all the recruitment efforts, which ones are the most effective? The most cost effective?

Failing to track application and hiring data or not differentiating information for important subgroups of teachers hinders efforts to revise the process from year to year (TNTP, 2012).

An example of analysis plan is on the next page.

Please refer to Appendix G, the Analyses of Outcomes and Effectiveness of Teacher Recruitment Sources/Strategies Template.

Maintain Job Announcements, Advertising, and Recruitment Files

There are certain Delaware requirements for maintaining advertising and recruitment files. These include:

1. Copies of published notifications sent to the media, individuals, and other recruitment services which contain the institution’s policy of nondiscrimination; and

2. Listing of all advertising and recruitment sources for filling present or future vacation job position must be retained for three years or through final disposition of charges of discrimination or legal action.

The Delaware Department of State (School District General Records Retention Schedule Personnel Records, Series No. 002) job announcement postings should be retained for three (3) years after a closing date or through the final disposition of charges of discrimination or legal action and then destroy.

Please refer to Background Information in this section for specific Delaware requirements.
Summary

To develop a comprehensive recruitment process, a district/school needs an ongoing approach that identifies specific timelines for recruitment and selection activities year-round. To prepare a comprehensive recruitment approach, it is suggested that a district/school examine the current status of staffing needs as well as the effectiveness and outcomes of recruitment efforts. This information will inform timelines for recruitment and selection, planning, and recruitment materials. As part of updating clear recruitment materials, it is suggested that a district/school clarify and define the ideal candidate for a position and needed competencies for the recruitment and selection processes. Recruitment materials may include: job announcement postings, brochures/fliers, websites, district/school profiles, and aligned messages. Once materials are ready, a district/school identifies various sources and strategies for distributing the recruitment materials to local, state, and regional/national pipelines. These strategies may include social media as well as creative approaches for targeted candidates. After a district/school has completed all of the above, it is ready to establish a recruitment and selection team. This team will need to be involved in the development and implementation of a comprehensive recruitment plan, the screening of applicants, and the selection of candidates for hiring recommendations to administrators. During and after the implementation of a recruitment plan, it is suggested that a district/school analyze the outcomes and effectiveness of recruitment sources and strategies on a regular basis. Finally, a district/school needs to maintain compliance with the Delaware code for the retention of all job announcements and advertising and recruitment materials.

Example of Recruitment Messages and Materials

An example of a recruitment message from Mastery Charter Schools in Philadelphia (DeArmond, et. al., 2012).

What makes Mastery a top destination for educators?

Culture of high expectation

We set the bar high. Student achievement drives every decision we make, and a rigorous learning environment is found in every classroom. Through meaningful use of data and assessments, leaders and teachers are able to pinpoint each student’s accomplishments and challenges. That data informs our planning, and steps are outlined so every student can reach mastery. Our goal is to close the achievement gap, and our staff does whatever it takes to get there.

One-Team Approach

We work together. Collaborative planning time is built into each school’s schedule, ensuring time for honest and respectful feedback. Our clear and consistent approach to instruction and classroom management results in more learning time and a positive school culture. Our staff and students are proud to be part of the Mastery family.

Leadership Development

We encourage growth. Professional development starts with an intensive summer orientation and continues throughout the school year. Every day, teacher growth is supported by school leaders, mentor teachers, and instructional coaches. Our Apprentice School Leader Program creates intentional pathways from teaching to school leadership, enabling Mastery teachers to become Mastery administrators. Our teachers and leaders are continuously improving.
Rewards for Success

We value hard work. Teachers’ and leaders’ efforts are rewarded through merit-based pay and incentive programs. Tiered instructor levels mean constant opportunities for increased responsibilities and compensation, and achievement is acknowledged through annual bonuses tied to school performance. The leaders that drive schools’ academic gains are rewarded with competitive incentives. Our students’ potential is limitless; our work is rewarding.

Social Media

Where you can follow DMPS online

Des Moines Public Schools uses several social media tools in order to share news, information, announcements and more with parents, staff, the community and anyone interested in Iowa’s largest provider of public education.

The social media sites used by DMPS all have free smartphone and tablet apps available, making it easy to connect from anywhere and at any time.

The following is a list of current DMPS social media sites, a link to each, and a brief description of how each is used:

- Facebook: DMPS uses Facebook for a little bit of everything – announcements about student and staff honors, links to stories about our schools, reminders about upcoming events, and more.
- Flickr: The school district is building a photojournalist-quality library of images covering a range of events and activities in our schools. Images from our Flickr page are for the use of the district and schools, for the personal use of individuals in the photos, and for use by the news media (with attribution given to Des Moines Public Schools).
- Instagram: From professional photographs to phone snapshots, DMPS shares a variety of images of the day-to-day activities at our schools. Follow us on Instagram and tag your school photos with DMPS365 to join us.
- LinkedIn: Des Moines Public Schools is the fifth largest employer in the metro, and the district’s Human Resources department uses LinkedIn as a means to share information about job openings as well as recent hires.
- Pinterest: From our schools to arts and sports news to our alumni – including Paramount founder Ben Silberman - DMPS “pines” a variety of stories and images using Pinterest.
- Twitter: Much like Facebook, the school district uses Twitter to share links to a range of stories. In addition, Twitter is used for announcements and reminders about events and schedules. Adding the school district to your Twitter contacts is another good way to receive regular updates.
- YouTube: The school district is home to DMPS-TV, a 24/7 cable outlet that airs on Mediacom channels 85 or 973. In addition, all DMPS-TV programming may also be viewed online on our YouTube channel.

Please note that Des Moines Public Schools reserves the right to remove comments and/or block users on any of its social media sites who post comments which, in the school district’s sole discretion, bully, intimidate, or harass any individual; contain obscenity, nudity or gratuitous violence; are commercial or political solicitations; are factually erroneous, libelous, or wildly off topic; are from anonymous blog trolls; or that otherwise violate State law, school district policy, or the guidelines of the social media sites.

Example of Job Descriptions that Reflect Critical Competencies

Each district/school should have a description of roles and responsibilities for each position or role. It generally includes duties, purpose, responsibilities, scope, and working conditions of a job along with the job's title, and the name or designation of the person to whom the employee reports. A job description usually forms the basis of job specifications (Business Dictionary.com)

Job descriptions for teachers should be aligned the description of the ideal teacher to a district/school’s mission and vision, culture, and performance expectations based on what type of teacher has been successful in the district/school (TNTP, 2012).

   a. Provides a snapshot or describes the main purpose of the job, consisting of no more than three to five sentences.
   b. The job summary should start with an action word, then explain the job’s requirements, and, if necessary, explain the why or how of the job.

3. Essential Duties, Tasks and Responsibilities;
   a. Duties describe what, how and why.
   b. Start with action verbs. Duties should be essential to the position and avoid listing marginal duties.

4. Working Conditions and Physical Requirements; and

5. Qualifications.
   a. Education, Experience, Knowledge, Skills, Abilities, Special Skills,
